"HE Journalism Class, under the efficient leadership of Editor Carlo Biscaro, produced the annual yearbook, the AKRONITE. The members contributed a weekly column, INSIDE A.C.S., to the AKRON NEWS and published the monthly newspaper, the A.C.S. REVIEW, featuring the special columns NINE YEARS AGO and PEOPLE IN THE NEWS by Carlo Biscaro, humorous satires by Barbara Coulson, and editorials coverof ing a variety of topics. Conrad Swanson's weekly sports articles offered local readers complete coverage of high school athletic events.

SENIOR CABINET

Sitting: Mr. John Eckerson, R. Ogilvie, M. Randazzo. Standing: R. Hambbarger, C. Swanson, B. Tiedt, L. Weaver

THE Senior Class sponsored two dances which proved successful because of the "girl inviting boy" idea employed. The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in October was one of the highlights of the year and the Leap Year Dance in February was equally well supported. The annual Junior-Senior Ball was the culminating activity for the Class of 1956.

THROUGH their association with the operatia, OKLAHOMA!, an the students proved how successful an enterprise can be when every department cooperates with the others to form a unified whole. OKLAHOMA! was chosen because of its true American flavor, its down-to-earth, folksy music, and its colorful view of the frontier. The ACS production of this great musical was under the direction of Richard Shaw with Carol Martin and Philip Brackett acting as student managers. Given March 9-10, the musical was one of the most successful productions in the history of the school.

THE 1955 edition of the Akron Tigers was rated, by most standards, as a successful football team. Although they finished in a third-place tie in the Oatka League standings, the lowest an Akron squad has placed since joining the conference in the 1952 season, they won four out of seven contests, one duel ending in a tie. The team outscored their rivals by a wide margin of 104 to 77.

The seniors on the 1955 squad were Richard Cory, Charles Casseri, Earl Kinne, Clayton Albrecht, Raymond Burchell, Robert Johnson, Robert Summe, Malcolm Wagner, and Michael Finch.

High points of the season were the victories over Perry and Alden by scores of 13 - 7 and 13 - 6, respectively, in contests played on the A.C.S. gridiron. As the scores would indicate, both of these games were hard fought.

At the conclusion of the schedule, Richard Cory was voted by the players and coaches as being the team's most valuable player. Clayton Albrecht, Charles Casseri, and Robert Johnson also received votes.

The future for the Tigers looks bright. With Marvin Deahn, Gerald Bistoff, James Brand, Neal Printup, Legrand McCormick, David Christie, and Leon Frey returning, the line will remain practically intact. These players will combine with backfield-men James Downey, the high-scorer of the '55 aggregation, Raymond Parker, and newcomers Melvin Faulker and Ronald Medole to form an eleven which will be capable of giving any team in the area a tough struggle.

THE 1955-56 edition of the A.C.S. Junior Varsity again fulfilled its primary aim of grooming players to fit into varsity competition. The leading scorer on the squad was Melvin Faulker with 193 tallies and he was followed by Bruce Peris and Foster Sundown, each with 66 points. The Tiger-Cubs' season record was seven victories against seven defeats. Among those competing for first string Varsity next year along with Juniors James Downey, Henry Ciarzynski, James Lippert, Neal Printup, David Ross, and David Harrington, will be Junior Varsity players Melvin Faulker, James Black, Neville Spring, Bruce Peris, Garth MacCoy, and Foster Sundown.

Track Team

First Row: J. Caprio, T. Delre, H. Ciurzynski, R. Bower, A. Fisher, Second Row: R. Tinney, G. Sistoff, P. Gibbons, J. Allen, T. Bates, M. Bartows, A Brunner, Mr. MacCoy, Coach.

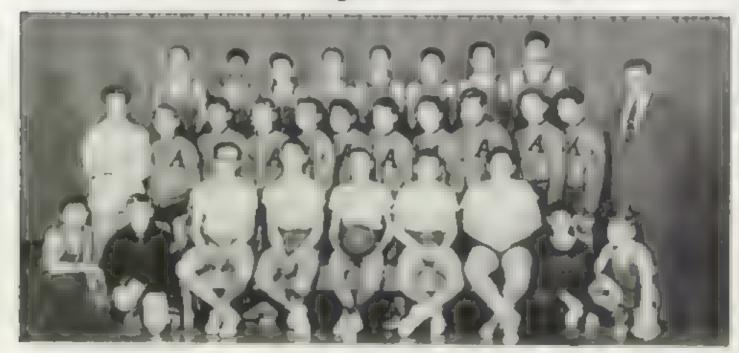

THE 1955 Akron Central Track Team had an unusually successful season. The squad, the largest in recent years, consisted of 30 members. In addition to placing second in the Niagara-Orleans Championship Meet with a total of 29 points, a figure three times larger than the previous year, the group experimented with new events, including the pole vault and hurdles, and attended a collegiate meet in Canada.
